

Legal Resources on the Internet: The District of Columbia (D.C.)¹

by Rick Apgood, M.L.S., J.D.

D.C. Government: <http://www.washingtondc.gov/>

This site provides links to citizen services, business services, the Mayor's office, the D.C. Council, city government and visitor information.

The Mayor's Office: <http://dc.gov/mayor/index.shtml>

Council of the District of Columbia: <http://www.dccouncil.washington.dc.us/>

This site provides information about the Council's actions and public meetings. It also contains the D.C. Code, a weekly schedule, proposed legislation, and access to numerous Council resources.

D.C. Code: <http://dcode.westgroup.com/home/dccodes/default.wl>

This site provides a searchable version of the District of Columbia laws.

D.C. Legislation: <http://www.dccouncil.washington.dc.us/lims/default.asp>

This site provides a list of all introduced and pending legislation before the District of Columbia Council. It also gives the text of the bill as well as the name of the Council Member who is sponsoring the bill.

D.C. Office of Documents & Administrative Issuances: <http://www.abfa.com/dcdocs>

The information on this site is provided as a public service and is not compiled by the D.C. government. It provides the only site on the Internet for many critical D.C. government publications, including

- a list and description of the content of the titles of the D.C. Municipal Regulations (DCMR);
- a cumulative list of amendments to the DCMR.

DCWatch Homepage: <http://dcwatch.com/>

DCWatch is an online magazine that covers local city politics and public affairs in Washington, D.C. In addition to articles and columns about political issues and politicians, DCWatch features resources for civic activists and background material on legislation and current events in the District of Columbia.

D.C. Department of Consumer and Regulatory Affairs: <http://www.dcrd.dc.gov/>

Through licensing, inspection, compliance, and enforcement programs, DCRA ensures the health, safety and economic welfare of District residents. Through DCRA online it is possible to apply for, pay for, and receive 18 types of general business licenses. Numerous business forms are also available.

D.C. Superior Court: <http://www.dccourts.gov/dccourts/superior/index.jsp>

This site includes information about the D.C. trial court, juror information, directions to the courthouse, information about court divisions (civil, criminal, domestic violence, family, and dispute resolution), and a court directory.

D.C. Court of Appeals: <http://www.dccourts.gov/dccourts/appeals/index.jsp>

This page contains general information about the D.C. appellate court, a phone directory, links to opinions issued by the Court, court forms, and rules.

¹ April 2002